I. Course Description

This course examines how capitalism—a system based on individual investments in the production of marketable goods—emerged, developed, spread, and matured in a wide range of social relations, cultural practices, and institutional arrangements. It challenges the understanding of capitalism as inevitable and timeless and explores the historically-specific conditions for the growth of capitalism in different local, national, and regional settings. It introduces students to methodologies such as political economy as well as economic, business, cultural, and intellectual histories. It also exposes students to the central debates in the rapidly-developing scholarship on capitalism.

II. Learning Objectives

1. Investigate and explain a range of historical processes in the formation of the modern capitalism;
2. Compare and contrast major approaches to study the history of capitalism, the history of economics, and the history of business;
3. Develop novel ways of conceptualizing and explaining the history of global capitalism and its significance to specialist and non-specialist audiences;
4. Use the history of capitalism to understand contemporary economic issues across the world;
5. Formulate original historical arguments and explanations that effectively deploy textual primary and secondary source evidence as well as numerical and data-based sources.

III. Course Components

Except for the introduction in the first week and the final presentations in the last two weeks, we will spend our seminars according to the following schedule:

13:30-14:20 Lecture by the Instructor

14:20-14:30 Break

14:30-15:30 Presentations
Each student will pick a topic ahead of time from the “Presentation Topics & Recommended Readings” section of the syllabus and conduct further research. The recommended reading listed on the syllabus serves as a gateway for more in-depth study on the subject. Students will present their findings in a 8-minute presentation, followed by a 5-minute Q & A session. PowerPoint slides are compulsory and a one-page outline plus a bibliography, is due at the time of the presentation. Hardcopies of the outline should be distributed in class. If you are interested in presenting on topics outside of the listed selection, please consult the instructor beforehand.

15:30-15:40 Break

15:40-16:30 Debate Moderated by the Students
Each student will bring to class a “Position Paper” summarizing his or her position on the week’s debate topic. This paper consists of an opening sentence plus 50 words or less. In the opening sentence, each student takes an unequivocal position in the affirmative or the negative. In position papers for Week 2, for example, every student should open by saying either, “Yes, history is closer to science than to art.” or “No, history is closer to art than to science.” Hard copies of position papers need to be handed in at the end of every class.

To launch the debate each week, three or four students will act as Debate Moderators. The Debate Moderators have two responsibilities:

1) Prepare a Debate Moderator Sheet and upload it to the “Discussions” section of NTULearn by 9am on the day he or she has signed up for. In class, the hardcopies of the Debate Moderator Sheet should be distributed (please print out 6-7 copies, one for each table). This sheet should contain quotations from the week’s required readings and questions formulated in response to these readings. Both questions and quotations should be chosen for the purpose of stimulating discussion surrounding the debate topic of the week.

2) Open discussion in class by making a brief (5 minutes) oral statement in which the moderators identify the topics that should be taken up in that session. Ordinarily, the moderators’ statements will be based on the required readings, the instructor’s lecture, other students’ presentations, and their own list of questions and quotations.

It is extremely important for the presenters and debate moderators to honor their commitments. As a general rule, cancellations are not accepted. If urgent circumstances prevent a student from fulfilling his or her duty, one should inform the instructor as early as possible. The student must find someone to replace his or her role for that week.

IV. Assessment
Grades will be based on:

a. Active Participation (10%). Position papers as well as engagement in debates will be evaluated throughout the semester. If you expect to miss more than 20% of seminars, you must come see the instructor to explain your absence and how you will make up for the lost time.

b. Presentation (15%). Each student should give one presentation in the semester. The depth of research & organization of ideas as reflected in the presentation outline, PowerPoint slides and oral delivery will be evaluated.

c. Performance as Debate Moderator (10%). Each student should serve once in the semester as debate moderator, on a topic different from his or her presentation. The moderators will be evaluated as a group based on the quality of the Debate Moderator Sheets, the students' verbal communication skills and ability to organize class discussion.
d. Research Essay Proposal (15%). 800 words due on 5pm, October 14 on Turnitin. 250 words abstract should be posted to the discussion board of the NTULearn on the same day. The proposal should address the research question you are pursuing and how it is positioned in the existing literature (i.e. engagement with key issues or points of debate in secondary sources).

e. Conference (10%). 6 panels, each panel with 5 presenters (including one panel organizer), one chair (who keeps the time and introduces the presenters, moderator Q &A), and one discussant. The presenters and the discussant will each speak for 5 minutes, the remaining time for Q &A. Each panel will last 45 minutes. Volunteers in the Conference Organizing Committee will put together conference program and circulate.

f. Final Research Paper (40%). 2,000 words-3,000 words (excluding footnotes and bibliography) due on 5pm, November 25 on Turnitin.
